Crown City Wildlife Area (State Wildlife Area)

The 11,119-acre Crown City Wildlife Area, located in portions of Lawrence and Gallia counties, is situated in southern Ohio approximately 3 miles south of Mercerville. The primary access to the wildlife area is from State Route 218 and State Route 790. Crown City Wildlife Area is located in the unglaciated region of southern Ohio. The terrain, dissected by numerous small streams, is rolling to rugged. Crown City Wildlife Area is a popular destination for hunting, fishing, trapping, and other forms of wildlife recreation. Scattered ponds which were created through the reclamation process provide fishing prospects for anglers. To the extreme southeast of the wildlife area is a 360-acre parcel that provides access to the Ohio River for additional fishing opportunities and waterfowl hunting.

Canada Park

Corner of Central Ave and Chestnut St, Gallipolis

*Hunting Licence Required

This 6,885-acre area lies in the western end of Meigs County and extends southward into Gallia County, to near the village of Cheshire. Many county and township roads pass through this area and provide direct access to almost all of the area. This area is situated in the hilly unglaciated Allegheny Plateau and consists primarily of rounded ridges, steep slopes, and narrow ravines. Numerous old fields reverting to forest are intermixed with woods which are generally second and third growth timber. Oak and hickory dominate the ridges and upper slopes. Tulip, poplar, beech, maple, and red oak are frequent lowland and ravine tree species.

Tycoon Lake State Wildlife Area

Tycoon Lake lies between State Route 325 and State Route 554, approximately five miles northeast of Rio Grande. From State Route 325, access to the area is gained by Township Road 21 (Eagle Road). From State Route 554, access is provided off Township Road 20 (Vaughn Road) and County Road 17 (Tycoon Road).

The lake has numerous parking areas, excellent shoreline access, one boat ramp, primitive camping, and a wheelchair-accessible pier. The lake is weedy along the bank, and several coves are covered with thick growths of lily pads. White amurs have been introduced to control weed growth. If they are caught, they are to be immediately released. Visibility is normally 4 to 5 feet. The average depth is 6 to 9 feet at the deepest. The lake contains endless stump fields, and fishing at night can be hazardous to your electric motor. Impounded by damming a lowland swamp, all timber was left in the lake. Fish of Interest for Anglers; Largemouth Bass, Bluegill, Channel Catfish (stocked during alternate years) and Crappie.

Wayne National Forest – Ironton Unit Symmes Creek and Morgan Sisters Trails

The 6 trails in the Morgan Sisters – Symmes Creek Trail System are located in Gallia County, Ohio near Patriot. The trails travel through dense vegetation and over hilly rough terrain. Elevation varies 280 feet from Symmes Creek to the highest point on School House Loop. Symmes Creek North and Symmes Creek South Trails are on the east side of the creek and form a 4.53 mile loop. These trails wind through a variety of forest types, along ridgetops, and with occasional overlooks. Along Symmes Creek there are large rock outcroppings and natural wetlands. Coal Branch, Ridge, and School House Loop Trails make up the Morgan Sisters Trail System and are located on the west side of Symmes Creek. These trails are linked to the two Symmes Creek trails by a short connector trail. The Morgan Sisters Trails wind through mature woods with old home sites along the trail, reminders of the Forest's past. Three trailheads can be used to access the Morgan Sisters – Symmes Creek trails.
